

Jamie Clarke

18398783

Reflection

Challenges

During this project I faced a few challenges. The removal of a router function caused me a lot of problems. For a while my removerouter function wouldn't access my remove_node function. Also I could only really find one online resource that helped with this problem. (not that there isn't more, I just couldn't find them.) Eventually I figured the problem out myself through lots of trial and error.

Proud

The part of this project I am particularly proud of is my add a connection function. I felt I managed to complete it quite quickly and efficiently.

Learned

What I learned from this project was a lot on adding routes and connections which I feel are useful. I also have to manage my time better from now on, as I did this poorly so at least I will know for the future. I took the late penalty for this due to my poor time management.

Thoughts

I felt it was a good assignment minus one part, the final part I felt carried too much marks for how hard it was. I also think that all parts should carry equal weight although I can understand why harder parts carry more but just maybe should be a bit more evenly distributed. 30% for one endpoint I felt was a bit unfair.